Society

The President and Mrs. Taft were the guests of honor at a brilliant reception given by the Congressional Club last night. It was probably the last official entertainment they will attend, and all the members of the club and other invited guests were present to do honor to the occasion, and to bid farewell to the popular President and his wife, who have often graced the club entertainments in the past.

The clubroom was beautifully decorated with palms and cut flowers in handsome vases and baskets. Mrs. Roberts, president of the club, received the hundred or distinguished guests, with the President and Mrs. Taft.

Among those who assisted in dispensing the hospitality of the evening were Mrs. Albert H. Sumner of Iowa; Mrs. John Sharp Williams of Mississippi; Mrs. Charles F. Johnson of Maine; Mrs. Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts; Mrs. Charles F. Bartlett of Georgia; Mrs. Frederick C. Stevens of Minnesota; Mrs. John H. Stephens of Texas; Mrs. D. E. Finley of South Carolina; Mrs. James C. Needham of California; Mrs. Joseph Howell of Utah; Mrs. Charles W. Pray of Montana; Mrs. Frederick E. Guernsey of Maine; Mrs. Bird McGuire of Oklahoma; Mrs. Edward T. Taylor of Colorado; Mrs. Burton L. French of Idaho; Mrs. George F. O'Shaughnessy of Rhode Island; Mrs. E. K. Roberts of Nevada, and Mrs. Carl Hayden of Arizona.

The President and Mrs. Taft, accompanied by the former's son, Maj. Richard U. Taft, reached the clubhouse a few minutes after the hour scheduled. Their entrance into the drawing room, was greeted with enthusiastic applause, after which the guests formed and stood in line until the close of the reception, at 11 o'clock.

Many handsome gowns were worn, and they found a fit setting in the artistically decorated room.

Mrs. Taft wore a striking gown of black velvet and chiffon. She had on the superb diamond necklace presented to her last Friday by her many friends and admirers as a token of their regard. Above the necklace, the diamond pendant of which hung low on her neck, she wore a pearl and diamond dog-collar and also pearl earrings.

Mrs. Fletcher, president of the club, wore a handsome gown of white satin, with an overdress of Vatican purple chiffon. Mrs. Edward Taylor was becomingly dressed in white, not embroidered in white silk tulle on a foundation of light blue satin, and a becoming pearl ornament in her hair.

Mrs. Stevans, of Minnesota, wore a charming gown of stone blue velvet with drapery of gold-toned lace. The latter starred the bodice, with long panel in the back.

Mrs. Smith, of Texas, wore a lovely gown of raspberry pink broadcloth, chiffon.

Mrs. Martin, of New Jersey, wore a striking gown of yellow panne velvet, with an overdress of black lace and tulle, embroidered in gold.

Mrs. Wood, of New Jersey, wore a handsome gown of pink satin with draped skirt, with bolero garniture of delicate Oriental embroidery, in which the pink tones predominated.

Mrs. Pray, of Montana, wore a lovely gown of champagne draped in long, graceful lines, with the overdress covered with crystal embroidery.

Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, of Rhode Island, wore a handsome gown of blue velvet, with white lace, with overdress of blue tulle.

Mrs. Mabel Boardman wore a lovely Maigle gown of white and black satin, hung in white tulle embroidered in crystal and jet.

Mrs. John B. Henderson wore a handsome gown of silver blue tulle over light blue satin.

Mrs. Melville Ingalls wore a becoming gown of white satin, with panels back and front of crystal embroidery.

Mrs. Needham, of California, wore an Oriental chiffon gown draped in graceful lines.

Mrs. Patton wore a smart gown of black satin draped low over a round skirt banded in gold embroidery, with gold and tulle bodice garniture.

Mrs. Barbara Stephens, of California, wore a charming gown of rose pink liberty satin.

Mrs. Mary Wilcox wore a lovely gown of mauve satin and Chinese crepe, the latter in tulle form, finished in deep silk fringe.

Mrs. Champ Clark wore a striking costume of white satin with a train.

Mrs. Kimball, wife of Rear Admiral Kimball, of N. H., was handsomely gowned in bottle green satin, draped in black net embroidered in pink and green at skirt.

Mrs. Cooper, of Wisconsin, wore a lovely imported robe of embroidered net, with over pink satin.

Refreshments were served continuously during the reception, at a handsomely appointed buffet, and an orchestra played in the second drawing room.

Mrs. Helen Taft was entertained at a dinner given in her honor last night by Dr. and Mrs. William Holland Wilmer.

Mrs. Taft was the guest of honor at luncheon yesterday given by Mrs. Thomas Richardson, at her residence in F Street.

The guests invited to meet her included Mrs. Marshall Field, Mrs. Julian Janney, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, Mrs. Mabel Boardman, Mrs. Norman Williams, Mrs. Van Rensselaer, Mrs. John Henry Purdy, Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Mrs. Charles L. McCawley, Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, Mrs. Nicholas Anderson, Mrs. Thomas F. Bayard, Miss Margaret Cameron, and Miss Eleanor Carroll.

Mrs. London, wife of the Minister of the Netherlands, gave a musicale in honor of Mrs. Taft yesterday afternoon at the legation, in F Street. The rooms were charmingly decorated for the occasion, and the delightful musical program was given by Mrs. London herself, who has a beautiful mezzo soprano voice, and sang two songs most charmingly. Then Mr. Barrington Brunch, an accomplished pianist, rendered a rhapsody by Brahms and a recital by Tchaikovsky with wonderful feeling and technique, after which the Minister of the Netherlands and Mrs. London sang two duets by Schumann.

Among those who were present were Mrs. Beatty, wife of Rear Admiral Beatty, U. S. N., Mrs. Hunt Slater, Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff, of Jackson, Tenn., chairman of the Southern Women's Wilson and Marshall Democratic League.

Representative William B. McKinley and his wife, Miss Mattie, entertained at a small dinner last night in the rose room of the Shoreham Hotel.

The social which was to be given at the Baptist Home, 328 N. Street, this evening, by the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church, has been postponed on account of illness in the home.

Extensive plans are being made for the reception which will be given at the New Willard Hotel Monday evening, March 2, by the District branch of the Woman's Wilson and Marshall Democratic League.

Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff, of Jackson, Tenn., chairman of the Southern Women's Wilson and Marshall Democratic League, who organized the league through the entire Southland, will arrive in Washington within a few days to be the guest of Mrs. George A. Ames, chairman of the District branch of the league.

Miss Adele Geneste is spending the next two weeks with her aunt, Miss Marie Geneste.
